

Announcing the Second Annual Statewide
Environmental Health Conference...

Contaminants in Our Environment: Where's the Risk?

YOUR HOME
Safe • Healthy

Combined with...

The 9th Annual Conference on Childhood Lead Poisoning Prevention

Hosted by

University of Wisconsin - Madison
College of Agriculture and Life Sciences

Sponsored by

Division of Public Health, Department of Health and Family Services, State of Wisconsin

With support from

Agency for Toxic Substances and Disease Registry
U.S. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention
U.S. Dept. of Housing and Urban Development
U.S. Environmental Protection Agency

Save These Dates!
Oct 25-26, 2004
At the Monona Terrace Convention
Center in Downtown Madison, WI

A Conference to meet your needs for a variety of environmental health issues:

- If you are a: sanitarian, environmental health specialist, clinical or public health professional, student, building inspector, environmental consultant or contractor, this conference is for you!
- Topics such as: Childhood Lead Poisoning, Risk Communication, Visualizing Risk, Groundwater Contaminants, Mercury Vapors and Spills, Indoor Air Issues, Grant Writing, Chemical Emergencies, and much more;
- Workshops on how to visualize and quantify risk;
- Model approaches for addressing environmental hazards in home, school and community settings;
- Tools to use on-site and in the office;
- Speakers from national and local programs; and
- Reception and time for Networking with new colleagues and old friends.

For More Information:

General Questions? Email: walshro@dhfs.state.wi.us or evanse@dhfs.state.wi.us; Call: 608/267-2488 or 608/266-3393; OR Go online: <http://dhfs.wisconsin.gov/eh>

Lodging? A block of rooms has been reserved at the Inn on the Park, two short blocks from the Monona Terrace Convention Center, for $62/night/single. Call 1-800-279-8811 to make your room reservations. To get the special rate, identify yourself as part of the "Environmental Health Conference Block."